

CHINA OBTAINS GUARANTEES OF ARMS DELIVERY

Clever Oriental Diplomat Gets French, British To Help

Geneva, May 13.—(AP)—Chinese sources said today that China had obtained from League powers, particularly Britain and France, an agreement for credits for purchase of arms and also assurance of aid in getting the arms into China.

Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, China's suave delegate to the League of Nations council, was said to have obtained the agreements in behind-the-scenes negotiations.

Dr. Koo was understood to have rejected earlier offers of credits and insisted on receiving also pledges that the powers would see that the munitions purchased reached Chinese territory safely through Britain's Hong Kong or France's Indo-China.

The council named a committee of five delegates of Britain, France, China, Soviet Russia and Rumania to draft a resolution reaffirming previous league declarations on China's war with Japan and also a new statement of sympathy for China to be acted on later by the full council.

British Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax, after yesterday's meeting of the League of Nations council, thanked Dr. Koo for his unexpectedly mild speech against the Anglo-French demand for freedom to recognize Italy's conquest of Ethiopia.

Chinese sources said Wellington Koo had replied:

"And Hong Kong?"

The "realistic" weapons China was using were threats to demand League sanctions against Japan and warnings that China might join Spain and other dissatisfied nations in demanding an urgent meeting of the League assembly.

While France and Britain knew that China would get little by either move, there was fear Wellington Koo might carry out his threats to lead League powers into a maze of complicated procedure.

Ozarks Support Jesse Jones As 1940 Candidate

Shoem Springs, Ark., May 13.—(AP)—Echoes of a presidential endorsement for Jesse H. Jones of Houston, Tex., chairman of the RFC, resounded today in the Ozark mountains surrounding this little northwest Arkansas border town.

Governor Carl E. Bailey of Arkansas proposed the Texas financier-publisher for the 1940 Democratic presidential nomination yesterday at a banquet climaxing "Jesse Jones" day at John Brown university, a private school specializing in vocational education. Jones received an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

"I suggest that we indicate here today that we would like to see Jesse H. Jones the Democratic party's 'graduate,'" said Bailey amid cheers, "for the commencement exercise of the political parties in 1940."

Jones, obviously startled, smiled broadly but declined to respond to the cheers. His only comment later was "I'd like to shoot the fellow that brought it up."

Kills Estranged Wife Then Himself

East St. Louis, Ill., May 13.—(AP)—While six customers and three employees screamed in terror, a man shot and killed his estranged wife in a beauty shop today and then ended his own life.

Chief of Police Michael J. O'Rourke identified the couple as Louis Earl Shadwick, 39, a railroad car inspector, and his wife, Lora, 31, who was employed as an operator in the shop. They separated a week ago.

Shadwick entered the second-floor shop and at close range fired a shot which struck his wife in the heart. As she dropped to the floor, Shadwick stepped back, fired one shot which grazed his forehead and sent a second bullet into his temple.

RADIUM POISON VICTIM SIXTEEN YEARS IS DEAD

Orange, N. J., May 13.—(AP)—The twenty-seventh name was added today to the list of fatalities among women workers who painted luminous numerals on watch dials some 16 years ago.

Mrs. Margaret Laudate, 38-year-old mother of three children, died yesterday. An autopsy by Dr. Harrison S. Martland, county medical examiner, established the cause as radium poisoning.

Mrs. Laudate courageously sought to fight off ravages of the disease that doomed so many of the women who moistened radium paint brushes with their lips.

Five years ago, Mrs. Laudate developed a hip ailment. By November, 1936, when her third child was born the disease had so advanced that a Caesarian operation was resorted to in a successful effort to save her and the baby.

Dr. Martland said the poison from the radium developed sarcoma (a malignant tumor) in the skull.

Then years ago there were legal suits for $125,000 damages by a group of women who became known as the "five radium girls." In 1932 Federal Judge William Clark, acting as private intermediary, announced the women each would be given the equivalent of a jury verdict of $48,000.

The company said it did not recognize the liability but was acting in settling "solely by humanitarian reasons."

Two of the five women are alive today.

Man, 38, Nabbed For Receiving Stolen Paintings Tried

Ashford, Eng., May 13.—(AP)—George Owen, 38, accused "with other persons not in custody" of breaking into Sir Edmund Davis' Kentish castle and of receiving two paintings from a $500,000 burglary April 23, was committed to trial today on the latter charge.

The court decided no evidence had been offered on the burglary charge and ruled that Owen be discharged on that count.

The two paintings concerned in the accusation on which Owen will stand trial were valued at $28,000 and he was accused of receiving them, knowing they had been stolen.

TWO STRANGERS DIED TOGETHER IN SUICIDE PACT

Former Bank Teller and Woman Discovered by Rockford Fishermen

Belvidere, Ill., May 13.—(AP)—A former Chicago bank teller and his woman companion, virtual strangers to each other, were found dead yesterday in an automobile parked in a picnic grove west of here.

Coroner Floyd E. Atkins said the victims, Albert V. Pierce, 40, of Chicago, and Miss Edna Lenkin, 42, formerly of Bad Axe, Mich., died in a suicide pact. The coroner said death was caused by carbon monoxide fumes carried to the interior of the car through a hose attached to the exhaust.

A note written by Pierce, who formerly was connected with the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company in Chicago, was found pinned on the front seat of the car. It was directed to his wife.

Could Not Stand Strain
"Forgive me for what I am about to do," Pierce wrote. "I could stand the strain no longer. You and your friends will be happier without me in this world. You must have courage and keep up. You will be happy when the baby comes. The lady with me is a stranger whom I met today and who also has personal troubles."

Gust Nelson, a farmer who owns the picnic grounds, said Pierce and the woman arrived Wednesday afternoon and paid him a 25-cent fee to enter. Three Rockford fishermen on their way to the nearby Kishwaukee river, discovered the bodies.

Relatives of Pierce said he suffered a nervous breakdown several months ago. Miss Lenkin's father, W. H. Lankin, of Bad Axe, told Coroner Atkins his daughter had lived in Chicago for 15 years. He said he had not heard from her since last fall.

Officer Conducts Auto Driving Class

State Highway Police Officer Edward Mahan has been assigned to special duty until after high school graduation. He is conducting examinations of classes in safe automobile driving in high schools throughout state highway police district No. 1, which comprises the northwest counties of the state.

Students in the safe driving classes are taken on a test drive, accompanied by Officer Mahan who observes all of the requirements necessary to pass the state examination. Students are required to be 15 years of age to qualify as safe automobile drivers and upon passing the required examination are issued certificates of award which entitle them to all driving privileges. Several of the Dixon high school students, members of the safe driving class, have passed the examination and have been awarded driver's certificates.

Only a very small number of the student drivers have failed to qualify as competent and safe drivers. Officer Mahan stated today, and the effects of diligent study of the requirements of a responsible automobile driver are clearly shown in the test drives.

Under-Secretary Of Interior West Resigns Position

Washington, May 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt nominated Harry Slattery of South Carolina today to be under secretary of the interior, succeeding Charles West.

Appointment of Slattery, now a personal assistant to Secretary Ickes, in the interior department, went to the Senate shortly after the White House announced West's resignation.

Stephen T. Early, a White House secretary, said the President was looking around for a new post for West, former Democratic congressman from Ohio, but as yet had not selected one for him.

Interior Secretary Ickes, who several months ago discharged West's assistant, a relative of the under-secretary and otherwise reduced West's office staff, was said to be anxious for a quick appointment of a new under secretary.

AAA THREATENS COMPULSION IN CROP CONTROL

Hints Refusal To Aid Voluntary Program May Bring It

Washington, May 13.—(AP)—Officials of the agricultural adjustment administration advised farmers today that refusal to co-operate with the voluntary corn acreage reduction program probably would make compulsory control measures necessary at harvest time.

Because of a corn surplus estimated to be twice as large as normal, the AAA is asking corn belt farmers to reduce their planting operations about 20 per cent. Growers are free to comply with the program or to ignore it.

AAA officials explained that if a large percentage of the corn growers overplanted acreage allotments, production probably would be much larger than needed to supply the demand. In such a case, Secretary Wallace would have to order a referendum on a proposal to limit sales through marketing quotas.

Wallace said in a radio speech last night:

"If the critics of marketing quotas really were as anxious as we are to avoid a situation which will make their use necessary, they would be urging, not opposing, voluntary co-operation at this time."

The greater the participation in the planting program, he said, the less likelihood there will be of a vote on marketing quotas in the fall. To become effective, the quotas would have to be approved by two-thirds of the corn belt farmers voting.

Springfield On Evansville Trail For Three-I Lead

Chicago, May 13.—(AP)—Springfield stayed at the heels of Evansville in the Three-I league race following a scoring epidemic that hit all of yesterday's winners except the leaders.

Evansville, however, checked off a Clinton rally in the ninth just in time to win a 5 to 4 decision. The Owls drove Manders from the box with their last-inning three-run assault, but Giebell checked the rally.

The clubs meet again today in their series finals.

PATROLMAN KNOWN FOR HIS DEVOTION KILLS HIS WIFE, 2 SONS AND HIMSELF

New York, May 13.—(AP)—Patrolman Anthony Modleski, 36, known to neighbors as "The Gentleman Cop," because of his devotion to his family, killed his wife, two sons and himself today.

He left a third son critically wounded in what police described as a murder-suicide outbreak caused by a fit of despondency.

The wife, Antonette, 27, and one son, Joseph, 4, were dead when found. Modleski and another son, William, 1, died in Greenpoint hospital shortly after the early-morning shooting. The only survivor was Anthony, Jr., 3. All were shot in the right temple.

Police Inspector Michael J. McDermott said Modleski had undergone an operation for appendicitis six weeks since his return to duty. He was excused from duty as ill yesterday afternoon.

As McDermott reconstructed the shooting, Modleski apparently got out of bed, obtained his service revolver from a bureau drawer and shot his wife as she lay asleep, and then one-year-old William in his crib. Next he went into another bedroom, and shot Joseph and Anthony. In the front room he turned the gun on himself.

SPECIAL SESSION PLANS SHAPED BY GOVERNOR, AIDES

Any Solutions Reached On Relief Crisis Kept Secret

Springfield, Ill., May 13.—(AP)—A special session legislative program was being shaped up by Governor Horner and his advisors today, but any conclusions reached for solution of the Chicago relief crisis remained a deep secret.

"There will be an announcement," the governor said firmly in advance of a long conference last night with Leo M. Lyons, Chicago relief commissioner and executive secretary of the Illinois emergency relief commission.

Lyons was invited to assist in drafting relief legislation following an earlier conference with the governor, called to deal with the Chicago situation. At the time the governor reiterated that "no one will go hungry," saying food orders would be supplied for the remainder of the month at least by the surplus commodities corporation. Chicago relief funds will be exhausted Tuesday.

Before the conference Lyons said the Chicago relief administration had laid off 1,500 employees, retaining 500 to distribute commodities and medical care.

Proposal Is Stop Gap

The only proposal advanced for immediate relief is a stop gap appropriation by the legislature. Even this would require five days.

Assisting the governor in calling out the special session subjects from a list of more than 200 requests were Alexander Wilson, administrative assistant, and De Witt Billman, secretary of the legislative reference bureau.

Rumor persisted that the call would be issued early next week setting the session for a week from today.

While the governor remained silent about his plans, he disclosed several days ago that the call probably would include proposals for a drivers' license law, a convention to amend the revenue article of the constitution, housing legislation and a state school board.

A remark he declined to amplify at his press conference yesterday, that localities must assume their own relief burden, started speculation that he favored a proposal to increase the local pauper relief from three to six mills, as a condition for state aid.

Special taxes for Chicago and a broadening of the base of the sales tax to include occupations now exempt also have been suggested.

Poor Judgment Shown By Poultry Robbers

Local chicken thieves displayed poor judgment in one of their series of raids on Dixon poultry roosts last night when they obtained about 20 white rock hens from the roost of James Garren, 723 Jay Dee avenue. The theft was reported to the police this morning and Patrolmen Jones and Glessner started an investigation.

The 20 hens had been separated from the remainder of the flock because of a diseased condition and were being treated. The chicken thieves broke into the coop of sick hens and carried away the entire number.

Convicts at San Quentin on Strike

San Quentin, Calif., May 13.—(AP)—About 350 convicts renewed a "folded arms" strike at populous San Quentin prison today in protest against the withdrawal of noon-hour recreation privileges.

Approximately 500 of the prison's 4,000 convicts started the demonstration this morning, but 150 of them soon resumed work. The strike continued in the tailor and shoe shops.

The "folded arms" demonstration started yesterday but ended in five hours when Warden Court Smith promised the men would not be punished for the rule infractions.

SENATE PASSES GIGANTIC NAVAL MEASURE TODAY

Washington, May 13.—(AP)—The Senate passed today the administration's billion-dollar naval expansion bill.

The measure, pending in congress since February, authorizes construction of 46 new fighting ships, 26 auxiliaries and 950 airplanes. Funds to carry out the program must be appropriated later.

Separate bills originally were passed by both chambers. A joint committee worked out a compromise carrying authorizations estimated at $1,090,000,000, and this was approved in the house by a 67-to-31 vote Wednesday.

Three new battleships and two 20,000-ton aircraft carriers are provided by the compromise bill. The battleships will be limited to 35,000 tons, unless the president finds that larger vessels are necessary in the interest of national defense. Upon such a finding, ships of up to 45,000 tons could be built.

The bill also carries authorization for a $3,000,000 dirigible provided the President finds one is needed.

President Roosevelt is expected to ask congress before adjournment for funds to start work on some of the vessels.

$65,000 Asked In Injury Case, Only $10,000 For Death

Cleveland, May 12.—(A)—Sixty-five thousand dollars was asked for one steel strike riot injury case, but only $10,000 for a death in four more suits filed today against Republic Steel Corp., and several of its employees.

Attorney William Thomas explained that "wrongful death" actions under Illinois statute were limited to $10,000.

The four cases filed in common pleas court today, asking $190,000, brought to $450,000 damages asked in eight suits arising from rioting last Memorial Day around Republic's South Chicago mill. Twenty more cases remain to be filed, which Thomas said would bring total damages asked to approximately $800,000.

Trelle Jones of New Holland, Ill., administratrix of the estate of Otis Jones, asked $10,000 for his death, one of 10 attributed to the strike riot.

Investigation Of Hopkins Work Will Be Asked By King

Washington, May 13.—(AP)—Senator King (D-Utah) told the Senate today he would ask shortly a congressional investigation of the administration of relief under Harry Hopkins, the works progress administrator.

King made this statement after Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) said "No one dares to ask an investigation of WPA."

McCarran said that if he controlled relief matters all funds would be spent under Secretary Ickes and the public works administration.

"Then no one would point a public finger of scorn," McCarran said, as he lauded Ickes' administration of PWA.

IERC DISCOVERS RELIEF CRISIS ALL OVER STATE

Deficits In Several In- stances Too Big To Be Overcome

Chicago, May 13.—(AP)—Confronted with a serious relief crisis in Chicago, the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission learned today the problem had extended to the state at large.

Commission statisticians reported that $70 of the 1,454 local governmental units in Illinois responsible for administering relief had accumulated deficits of $3,100,342. Surpluses of $2,263,350 were reported for 1,084 local units, but commission members pointed out that individual surpluses were not available for use in localities having deficits.

The figures were as of March 31, when the 1937 tax year ended for all units except Chicago, the town of Cicero, Capital town ship (Spring field) and 17 commission counties.

Leo M. Lyons, executive secretary, said the deficits were incurred principally through credits extended by merchants in hopes of reimbursement later through township levies.

But, Lyons said, many units already had spent sums in excess of their legal anticipations for next year's levies.

Not Enough Funds

Lyons, also relief administrator for Chicago, reiterated his announcement that relief stations here would close May 18 because of lack of funds.

Thomas E. Courtney of DeKalb, commission member, said the situation was "worse than the public realizes."

William H. Sexton, Chicago member of the commission, described the situation as "hopeless, uneconomic, unintelligible and bad government."

Both Sexton and Courtney criticized the WPA, saying situations were plentiful in which WPA workers declined to take a part-time job in private industry in fear the job would expire and they would have difficulty in returning to WPA rolls.

They said this made it impossible for the IERC to certify many men to the WPA to take the places of workers who might enter private employment.

Courtney said:

"The governor has appointed a commission to investigate unemployment, and it ends up by investigating relief. No one is better able to report on relief than the IERC."

The statisticians reported that as of April 30, claims against relief "chiselers" totaled $1,015,492. In April, the report continued, $3,727 was collected at a payroll cost to the IERC of $365.

"Terrible Job"

Courtney termed it "a terrible job of collecting," and demanded to know if there were "political interference" with the collections. "None," replied L. W. Hutchins, of the business service division, "nothing but co-operation."

Lyons, who said Governor Horner promised him in Springfield that "no one is going to starve," said arrangements would be continued in Chicago, after relief cessation, for emergency medical care, including treatment for at least 1,000 children.

The administrator said he had promised the governor with a "mass of material" for consideration in planning relief legislation to be undertaken at a proposed special session of the state legislature.

Lyons said 19 relief stations would be kept open through Wednesday but would be closed thereafter until the depleted relief account for Chicago was bolstered with additional funds. Fifteen hundred of the administration's staff of 1,908 will be laid off and skeleton staffs will man the stations to dole out available supplies and emergency medical aid, he said.

MARQUETTE U. TRACK SQUAD RUNS PURDUE

Milwaukee, Wis., May 13.—Hopeful of scoring their initial dual victory of the outdoor season, Marquette university trackmen will invade Lafayette, Ind., Saturday afternoon, for their first engagement in history with the Purdue university Boilermakers.

Both Marquette and Purdue lost to Michigan State at East Lansing by similar scores, so that Saturday's dual is regarded as a tossup. It is possible that the meet may be decided by the one-mile relay, an event in which the opposing squads have two of the strongest varsity quartets in the midwest this year.

CORN BELT FARM REVOLT POINTED DIRECTLY AT AAA

Farmers Can't Stand Regimentation Any Longer Is Claim

Chicago May 13—(AP)—Stanley P. Morse, consulting agricultural engineer, asserted the mid-west corn-belt farmers' protest was "a spontaneous revolt of dirt farmers who no longer can stand the farm regimentation activities of the AAA."

Morse, a South Carolina plantation owner, former farm paper editor and agricultural consultant to several Latin-American countries, addressed the "America, Wake Up" crusade at the Union league club.

Coming here directly from Macomb, Ill., where the corn farmers' protest movement originated, he said of it:

"This is a spontaneous revolt of dirt farmers who no longer can stand the farm regimentation activities of the AAA. These farmers tell me that scarcely one-third of the farmers have attended the AAA meetings and voted for the farm program."

"The rest have stayed away even though many of them accepted the government checks."

He said the farmers considered the new corn acreage allotments "so drastic and reduce the farmers probable income so seriously that they have determined to call a halt on Washington farm control."

He listed four objectives he said these farmers want, namely: "First and foremost, they want the government to leave them alone. Second, the thought of possible dictatorship aroused them to fury and they will brook no interference with their liberty and independence."

"Third, they want the domestic market preserved for the American farmer and not opened to foreign farm imports. Fourth, they want to formulate and control the national farm policy."

IT'S A LONG ROAD—

"When I think of what we did to poor Herbie Hoover I believe we deserve what is coming our way now," said Senator T. V. Smith, Democratic nominee for congressman at large in Illinois, addressing members of the Illinois League of Women Voters.

We move to amend by striking out the words, "poor Herbie."

Herbert Hoover no longer is poor Herbie in any sense of the term, and perhaps never was. It is an error that any of us might fall into, however, and probably many of us have.

Discarding the thing we call wealth for the moment, he is one of the richest men on the globe. Recently he returned from Europe with endless awards by grateful peoples who remembered his services when the continent was torn by war and now are viewing in retrospect the deeds of an American. He is known around the world for his works of charity, for which he never received a cent of compensation. We do not recall that he even wrote a book about it.

Those services were carried on before the United States was in the war and after hostilities had ceased and food had to be distributed to persons otherwise likely to starve.

It has been related to us that recently Mr. Ripley of Believe It or Not fame gave the world a story that seems to have been hidden all through the political career of Hoover. It had to do with the Boxer rebellion in China and the rescue of members of a Chinese family from a burning building. British soldiers called it foolhardiness. For this heroism, the Chinaman of some means tendered all he had to the American who had saved his children. Reward was respectfully declined.

Who are we to say, "Poor Herbie Hoover" of one so rich?

We passed over the worldly riches to reach more quickly the other riches that neither politics nor panics can take away. It happened that Herbert Hoover's ability and industry yielded well in large fields of engineering and that because of his independence when he undertook charitable services, he was able to serve without compensation. It came to light only recently, however, that all the salary Herbert Hoover received as secretary of commerce and as president of the United States was given to charities. In short, he served the country for nothing, and the "poor" people were that much richer.

Who, then, are we to say, "Poor Herbie Hoover," of one who has this world of riches stored up to weigh against the sneers of those who have been stirred to a state of hatred?

But we have been led away by a circumstance and have missed the substance of the remark of Senator Smith, who thinks that he and others who did something to Herbert Hoover deserve now what is coming to them in the way of retribution, in form of an industrial depression, in duplication of all that came to mar the presidential administration of Hoover, except the runs on banks, which we, not Hoover, made.

Mr. Hoover is not a candidate for office and people no longer think of him in terms of a presidential possibility, so it now is possible to say something to the credit of one who needs so little from us.

THE REALIST AS BLUNDERER

The starchy-eyed idealist can get into a good deal of trouble, what with his habit of stepping out into traffic with his eyes on the heavens. But there are times when it does seem that the coldly practical realist can get into more of a tangle than a dozen idealists put together.

What ails the international set-up in Europe these days, if not a dose of super-realism, applied cold-bloodedly by practical men whose boast it is that they have tossed idealism overboard as a delusion and a snare?

We are witnessing right now the final death-rattle of the League of Nations. When Britain and France informed the League that they are giving formal recognition to Italy's conquest of Ethiopia, the League was just about ready for the undertaker. And when they follow that by requesting the League to abandon the Stimson policy of refusing to recognize territories acquired by force, as they are expected to do, the work of nailing down the coffin lid will have begun.

All of which has a direct bearing on this question of idealism versus realism.

With all its faults, the League was the work of idealists. That is, it did represent an effort to substitute international law for the law of the jungle. It tried to free the world from the fear of war by setting up a regime of collective security.

What is replacing it is, very clearly, nothing less than a return to the ancient balance-of-power system. Europe once more divides into armed camps, whose inmates arm to the teeth and remain at peace only so long as neither side can see any percentage in starting a fight. That is a system which makes peace expensive and war inevitable. It could be followed, one would think, only by people who had completely blinded themselves to the painful lesson of 1914.

Yet it is precisely this system which is being revived by the clear-eyed realists. Prime Minister Chamberlain of who remain convinced that the law is being violated.

B. Inside word now is that because of present embarrassment there will be a shake-up in the State department's legal staff.

C. Mr. Hull himself got a little mixed up in his explanations as to why it was legal for the United States to ship arms to Germany.

CROSSED REASONS

In all he gave three different reasons at different times.

1st. Mr. Hull used the explanation supplied him by his legalists, namely that although the Treaty of 1921 with Germany provided that Germany should import no arms, there was no obligation to prevent the United States from selling her the prohibited goods. Thus although Germany was violating the Treaty of 1921, the legalists argued, the United States was not.

In citing this, Mr. Hull's experts apparently ignored the fact that the Neutrality Act is quite clear that export licenses shall not be issued by the State Department in any case "where exportation of arms, ammunition, or implements of war would be in violation x x x of a treaty to which the United States is a party."

In other words, Congress did not specify that either one country or the other might violate a treaty, but only that the treaty should not be violated at all.

When this was called to Mr. Hull's attention, plus a statement made by him in 1934 that he would look upon the sale of arms to Germany with "grave disapproval," he shifted his position.

2nd. At this point Mr. Hull maintained that Germany had scrapped the arms provisions of the Versailles Treaty, and since these were the same provisions embodied in our separate treaty with Germany, the United States was justified in ignoring them.

3rd. On the day following, Mr. Hull brought out a new excuse, namely that the arms shipment to Germany were infinitesimal in amount (a total of $1,689,095.11 in about two years) and that this was not worth worrying about.

If this logic were followed through, Germany's ability to buy arms in the United States would be limited only by her capacity to pay for and take delivery of them.

AMERICAN GRAVES

Real facts is that Mr. Hull in all past public statements has been one of the greatest champions of the sanctity of treaties. He has maintained that they are the basic foundation for trade and peace, has sent many notes of protest to various countries against treaty violation.

There is every justification for this. And were it not for the fact that the Secretary of State has his Tennessee mountaineer dander up, he would be the first to admit that there is good reason to keep inviolate the treaty of peace with Germany. For that treaty contains many things beneficial to the American people.

England has openly said that he is following a policy of realism. His French allies have said the same. On the opposite side of the fence, Dictators Hitler and Mussolini have long boasted of the utter absence from their scheme of things of any taint of idealism.

Yet this vaunted realism can give the world nothing better than a return to the road to war!

The idealist may stumble and fall often enough, with his eyes on the stars. But can he ever get the world into a worse mess than this which the realists are cooking up?

It contains, for instance, German guarantees to respect the graves of American soldiers buried in the Rhineland.

It contains pledges that American shipping can use the important Kiel Canal and certain German rivers.

It contains provisions for payment of damages suffered in the famous Black Tom explosion and other sabotage by German agents in the United States before this country entered the World War.

In addition to other things, it contains provisions for payment for American occupation costs in Germany. And the State Department, although ignoring the treaty's provisions regarding arms shipments, has chosen to protest vigorously that costs of the American army in Germany, now in default, must be paid.

Mr. Hull may have had some of these things in mind in 1935 when Germany was beginning her great rearmament program. For the record of his press conference for March 22, 1935, reads:

"The Secretary pointed out that all who believe in peaceful settlements of international problems of all kinds have felt increasing concern over tendencies to fall to live up to the letter and spirit of treaties. Secretary Hull believed that the moral influence of the United States and its people must always encourage living up to treaties."

"The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea." (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. No. Mother Smith, both you and Dot inherited the texture of your hair. Many family trees have been studied and the texture of the hair shows as a distinctly inherited trait. Since we have no "pure breeds," that is all of one type of hair, either fine or coarse, some members of any family will have one type and some another. That's an interesting line for Trait-Scouts to look into. Send for the Trait-Scout Heredity Booklet and Family Pedigree Chart, and get some helpful hints on how to study your heredity, and make a new use of your Family Album. (Sent at cost 25 cents plus a self-addressed 3 cent stamped envelope).

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Not at all. The most successful people I know are constantly meeting defeat—but they are successful because they keep their heads cool, analyze the causes of the defeat and profit by it. The failure is merely the man who stays defeated. No one can succeed at everything he undertakes. The biggest men and women fail half a dozen times every day but they analyze the failure and either see they have made a mistake and tried the impossible or else they have made a mistake and tried the impossible or else they merely back out and take another tack.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. That's the kind he is most likely to marry, no matter what I tell him, because nature has so arranged human affairs that like usually marries like. Davenport, biologist has shown that even nervous people tend to marry nervous mates. It is not known which type gets along the best together. Two big researches are going on in different universities to try to find out, so they can tell people in advance whether their proposed marriage will likely end happily or otherwise.

Episcopal Bishop In Iowa Prohibits Church Lotteries

Davenport, Ia.—Bingo and other games of chance have been barred in the Episcopal diocese of Iowa by Bishop Harry S. Longley.

"I most emphatically forbid in this diocese," he declared in his annual official address at the diocesan convention, "all schemes for raising money which violate the law of the land and set aside the morals which for centuries have been the guide of Christian men and women in building and holding up Christian standards. I refer to games of chance, bingo and the giving of prizes for public affairs which are contrary to the law."

Scheduled airlines operating in continental United States during February, 1938, carried 73,563 passengers and flew 34,387,696 passenger miles.

Brain Twizzlers

By PROF. J. D. FLINT

Dr. Smith had done some very good dental work for a patient and had been highly complimented on his work by the patient who was a very wealthy though eccentric man. Some time later, after the bill for the work had been sent, Dr. Smith received a letter from the man saying that he was sending a check. The letter also said that the check was for an amount considerably in excess of the bill. It also said that there would be an added bonus if Dr. Smith would refrain from cashing the check. This bonus would be the difference between the product of the three figures which the check was written for and the sum of the same three figures and the letter assured Dr. Smith that difference would be no small number. Dr. Smith agreed to this but when he saw the check he realized what an unprofitable mistake he had made. How much was the check for?

Annual Girl Scout Banquet Tonight to Climax a Year of Eventful Activities

Climaxing a year of eventful activities the local organization of Girl Scouts and leaders will meet for its annual banquet tonight at 6:00 o'clock at the Elks club.

May is the month of conferences for Girl Scout officials, council members, regional committees and national board members. Thousands of these adult members of the organization will be meeting in various centers in every part of the country in conferences which, as a rule, last three days. Leading educators, civic leaders and outstanding authorities in sociological, recreational and group leadership circles will speak at these annual meetings the total attendance of which is expected to be about 7,000.

Emphasis in the majority of conferences this year will be placed on the revised Girl Scout program which is being offered to the 461,000 active members of the national organization. The revised program offers a wider choice of program activities to girls in each of three age groups, 7 to 10, 10 to 14 and 14 to 18 years, based on their own age level interests and potentialities.

This past week, May 11 and 12, Chicago was the scene of the largest conference when more than 2,000 members of the local councils of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin met at the Palmer House in that city.

Mrs. August Wimpelberg, Commissioner, and the following members of the Dixon Council of Girl Scouts, Inc., attended this meeting: Mrs. Robert Warner, Mrs. John Devine, Mrs. Philip Reilly, Mrs. Raymond Worsley, Mrs. Howard Edwards, Mrs. L. Dunkelberger, Mrs. A. C. Bowers and Mrs. John Davies. Troop leaders who attended were: Mrs. D. C. Bryant, Mrs. Leo Dixon, Mrs. L. E. Sharp, Mrs. L. Elfrine, Mrs. Hazel Miller and Miss Ruby Nattress.

Dixon may well be proud of its local Girl Scout organization which has a local council of 15 members, a full time director Miss Marie Kelly, 30 leaders and assistants, 223 registered Girl Scouts, 120 Brownies, and two regional committee members: Mrs. J. G. Ralston, chairman of the Great Lakes Region and Mrs. T. J. Miller, Jr., state camp chairman of the region. Mrs. Ralston was elected regional chairman to succeed Mrs. Clarence M. Day of Detroit at the leaders' meeting of the Great Lakes Region held yesterday in Chicago.

Mrs. Ralston not only gives her time to this movement but also her financial aid. Recently she purchased and donated 50 acres of land near Dixon to be used as an established camp. This camp will be known as Camp John G. Ralston in memory of her late husband who was also active in Scout activities.

Tonight Mrs. Ralston will attend the local banquet and will have as her guest Mrs. Charles R. Lindsay, Jr., speaker of the evening. Miss Louise Miller of Troop III, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Miller, Jr., will be presented the Golden Eaglet award tonight for outstanding merits as a Girl Scout.

Lutheran Missionary Society Met Yesterday

The Woman's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church held their thankoffering meeting Thursday afternoon in the church parlors. A delicious luncheon was served at 1 o'clock to about 60 members and friends. The tables were beautifully decorated with spring flowers. The hostesses were Mrs. Chiverton, Mrs. Bert Ortgiesen, Mrs. E. Dyrart, Mrs. Jennie Reils and Miss Greta Hayungs. The regular meeting followed the luncheon at which Mrs. Beier, the president presided. After the opening song Mrs. Beier led in prayer. The devotions were conducted by Mrs. Maude Chiverton.

The lesson topic, "If I were a Moslem Woman", was presented by Mrs. George Christianson in a most interesting manner. The secretary and treasurer's reports were read. Memorial services for the department members of the society were conducted by Mrs. Beier. A playlet entitled, "American Beauties", was presented by Mrs. Charles Hank and Mrs. Bert Ortgiesen and was much enjoyed. Another song was sung and a most enjoyable meeting was closed with the missionary benediction.

Dixon Women Attend Club's Luncheon

The Chadwick Woman's club entertained yesterday at a coffee house in Mt. Carroll with its annual spring luncheon. Forty members were in attendance. Mrs. Alice Beede and Mrs. Herman Rasch of Dixon were among the guests. The tables, decorated with tulips and bridal wreath, were very effective. A trio composed of Mrs. Robert Lego, Mrs. H. E. Zugchwerdt and Mrs. Gladys Etnyre sang two selections. Mrs. Oscar Daehler and Mrs. O. H. Rahn gave reports of the district convention recently held in Galena when a pilgrimage was made through the old homes in Galena, Smith Park and Mt. Carroll and to the Palisades near Savanna, the Pines state park in Ogle county and Starved Rock near LaSalle. The outing consumed three days.

PALMYRA AID SOCIETY MEETS

The Palmyra Aid Society met Wednesday in the Sugar Grove church basement. A scramble dinner was enjoyed at noon. The members tied a comforter. The vice president, Mrs. Dodd, called the meeting to order and the secretary's report was given. Roll call was answered with Mother's Day verses and 12 members responded. The next meeting will be held May 25 and if the weather permits it will be held with Mrs. Edward Lawton at Assembly Park. This will be a Memorial Day meeting and an election of officers will be held.

JUNIOR LEAGUE GUILD TO MEET

The Junior League of St. Anne's Church Guild will meet Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Deutsch, 509 E. Chamberlain street. Mrs. Irene Kreitzer will review the book, "The Crusades" by Hillaire Belloc.

We should not always be thinking of our digestion, but we would benefit by thinking more about what we eat and how we eat it. Most women today are fretting about how many pads of fat will result from their dietary ratio or caloric count.

DOCUMENT FOR CHURCH UNION IS HISTORIC

Utrecht, The Netherlands, May 13.—(AP)—An historic church document aimed at the most far-reaching union of Christian churches since the Reformation emerged today from a world conference of churchmen representing 130 Protestant denominations.

The document is the draft of a constitution, approved unanimously by 75 delegates from 20 nations including the United States, for the first world council of churches in history.

It will be submitted at once to all participating churches by the Archbishop of York, who presided at the five-day conference which adjourned today.

An accompanying letter will ask the churches to unite in the organization for "the fellowship of churches which accept our Lord Jesus Christ as God and Saviour" and send delegates to the proposed council meeting.

Delegates here represented directly about 32 denominations but they spoke also as the elected representatives of 130 Protestant bodies.

A council meeting every five years and an annual meeting of a central committee would be open to all Christian churches.

The Roman Catholic church, however, has taken no steps to participate in the movement.

The council assembly would consist of 450 members. There would be 90 delegates to the central committee, including 18 from the United States and Canada, of whom five would be lay delegates.

Of the 42,446,814 automobiles in use in the world at the beginning of the year, nearly 27,000,000 are used in the United States.

WALLACE SENDS HUGHES LETTER ON COURT STAND

Infers Judiciary Is Behind in Change of Procedure

Washington, May 13.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace has told Chief Justice Hughes that a supreme court decision invalidating an agriculture department order not only reversed the court's stand two years ago, but was 20 months behind a similar change in procedure instituted voluntarily by the department.

The secretary's views were made public last night in an unprecedented letter to the chief justice dated May 3, a week after the court decision.

Wallace's decision to give out the letter apparently was prompted by a speech the chief justice delivered earlier in the day, in which he asserted that the success of government administrative agencies would be commensurate with their exercise of judicial "impartiality and independence."

Defending his department's handling of cases in general, Wallace wrote that the particular case involved in the decision originated during the Hoover administration under a law signed by President Harding.

It concerned an order reducing commission rates in the Kansas City livestock market. The supreme court invalidated the order on the ground the commission men were not permitted to rebut findings of fact by an agriculture department examiner.

Letter Quoted

Wallace's letter to the chief justice said in part:

"You will be interested to know that the practice you now recommend, that the examiner conducting the hearing make a report which is available to both parties for exceptions and argument, was adopted by this department about 20 months ago.

"You will recall that when you remanded this same case to the lower court in May, 1936, you discussed this question and at that time you wrote: '... We can not say that particular type of procedure was essential to the validity of the hearing. The statute does not require it and what the statute does require relates to substance and not form.'"

"Although you pointed out that such procedure was not required, we nevertheless felt that its adoption would help to assure fair play to all parties and made it a part of our regular procedure in all cases arising under the packers and stockyards act and similar legislation."

"I am glad to know that the court has now approved the procedure which the department already has inaugurated."

NETHERLANDS BELIEVES WAR DANGER REMOTE

The Hague, The Netherlands, May 13.—(AP)—This little land of the chunking wooden shoes and creaking windmills sees straws in the wind for peace.

But if war does come, she wants to go right on tilling her tulip beds and building up the great dyke system which keeps out the sea for much of the 196-by-108-mile kingdom.

Just as during the World war, the Netherlands was determined to preserve her neutrality, or what "we prefer to call our policy of independence," a high official close to the foreign ministry put it today.

"We take sides with none of the opposing groups," this spokesman told the writer, who is on a tour of the tiny land of winding canals.

He thought no country in Europe really wanted war and that "the fact that war has been so near several times in recent years is proof the people generally want peace."

The Anglo-Italian agreement was seen as a favorable sign for peaceful settlement of European problems, and the official viewed also the British move at Geneva to settle the Ethiopian question as a realistic step, in accord with the Netherlands' own proposal several months ago to the Oslo convention states economically linked Norway, Sweden, Finland, Belgium, the Netherlands, Denmark and Luxembourg.

"To continue to withhold recognition was only prolonging tension existing in Europe and was making settlements more difficult," he said.

The LZ-130, the sister ship of the Hindenburg, is 804 feet long and has a helium capacity of more than 7,000,000 cubic feet. Its flying range will be approximately 7,000 miles. The zeppelin will carry 40 passengers.

War Mothers Thank Citizens for Help

The Lee County Chapter American War Mothers have expressed their appreciation to the citizens of Dixon and the girls who assisted for the successful carnation sale on Saturday, May 7. Several of the Junior American Legion Auxiliary girls were the helpers, Mary Lou Kelly being high saleslady, having $11.50 in sales. Each girl was given ten per cent of her earnings which will enable them to help purchase their new uniforms for the drill team.

The next meeting of the mothers will be held at the home of Mrs. Hannah Miller, May 20, who will serve a dinner and it is hoped to have a large attendance of members and friends.

The meeting held on May 6 was very well attended and the president, Lottie Sandberg, gave a very complete report of the state convention held in Centralia. She also stated that the national president spoke very highly of Illinois chapter for the great amount of hospital work done and also that all organizations have the greatest respect for the American War Mothers.

The citizens of Centralia gave all due respect to the convention and hope to have them in the future for another state gathering.

Eliza Brand, who had spent the winter in Long Beach, Calif., was present at the meeting. Viola Strub has been appointed on the state advisory board and Clea W. Bunnell as magazine chairman.

Legion Auxiliary Enjoys Banquet

The American Legion Auxiliary held their first Mothers' and Daughters' banquet Wednesday evening in the Legion hall. Mrs. Clara Traynor and Mrs. Louise Enichen, who have charge of the Junior Auxiliary, the members of the committee and the Legionnaires who served, are to be commended on the success of the affair. A tasty chicken dinner was served at 6:30 following prayer by Mrs. Lila Wagner. The tables were prettily decorated, the bouquets and nut cups in blue and yellow. After the serving an interesting program was enjoyed. Mrs. Emma Phalen acting as toastmistress.

A toast to the mothers was given by Mary Arnold, and a responsive toast to the daughters by Viola Strub. An oration, "The constitution and democracy," was given by William Slothower, Jr. A song and dance number furnished by Mary Ann Riley was given. County Superintendent of Schools L. W. Miller gave the fine address of the evening which was followed by a piano duet by Betty Thompson and Donna Welch.

A short business meeting followed, at which time the nominating committee submitted the list of candidates to be elected at the next regular meeting.

MOVIE QUEEN TO ARRIVE IN DIXON TOMORROW NOON

Parade To Wend Way Through Streets In Her Honor

Who Dixon's movie queen will be, is the question that will be answered at 12:40 P. M. tomorrow when the young lady steps off the train here.

According to reports a local girl has been chosen for her charm and acting ability, popularity and beauty to play the title role in the four-act local screen and stage show entitled "Movie Queen" to be presented Thursday, May 26, in the Dixon high school auditorium by the Junior Association of Commerce.

The movie queen, supposedly a home town girl who has made good in the movies, will arrive Saturday and from that time on will star in the scenes to be shot all over Dixon the next ten days. She will be met at the station by a large crowd of townspeople and by cameramen who will grind off pictures, both movies and still shots of everything that occurs. The "queen" will then be escorted to the city hall where Mayor William V. Slothower will present her with the key to the city and President Joe P. Judge of the Junior Association of Commerce will present flowers in the name of the Junior Association.

To Lead Procession

There she and Mayor Slothower will ride at the head of the parade through the streets of Dixon. The parade is a commercial venture in which every businessman is invited to enter trucks, cars or any vehicle bearing his name. The parade will include a police escort, queen's car, fire department truck, Dixon high school band, Boy Scouts, Legion drum and bugle corps, Dixon State Hospital band, private autos from the new automobile dealers and trucks entered by the business men. Children are invited to join the procession on their bicycles and anyone may enter by merely reporting at the North Western depot at 12:45 P. M. Saturday.

Moving pictures will be taken of everyone in the parade and of crowds on the streets. These scenes will comprise the first of the forty-five minute movie reel to be obtained here and shown May 26 at Dixon high school.

Movies will be made of churchgoers Sunday and all over town next week.

MARTIN HOLDS CONFIDENCE OF U. A. W. A. BOARD

Detroit, May 13.—(AP)—Hommer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, central figure in a factional dispute within his organization, held a confidence vote today from the U. A. W. A. international executive board which has been in session for a week.

Commendation of Martin and all other officers, including Richard T. Frankenstein, demoted by Martin from assistant president to vice president, was voted last night by the 24-member board. The vote was said to have been unanimous, submerging temporarily at least all recent factional disputes.

Martin submitted to the board a program including many points similar to those advocated by Frankenstein and it was adopted without a dissenting vote.

Among the proposals advocated by both Frankenstein and Martin was a drive to organize non-union factories in other cities competing with Detroit union shops. Another was support of the Committee for Industrial Organization in a vigorous campaign to organize Ford Motor Co. employees.

Martin's program called for strict observance of all contracts.

Others Meel Tomorrow

On the call of retiring chairman Bruce A. Campbell of Belleville, who contended yesterday's meeting was illegal, the other nine Chicago committeemen and Francis J. Loughran of Joliet, the only anti-Horner man downstate, are to organize a week from tomorrow afternoon. They represent considerably more than half the Democratic votes in the primary.

Hershey adjourned his meeting until that evening, when the Horner group will go ahead with or without the Chicagoans.

Two years ago, when Horner committeemen bolted the meeting that elected Campbell, they picked Hershey as their titular chairman. Neither faction on that committee met again until after the April primary.

CUB LEADERS PLAN TRAINING COURSE HERE

A Cub leaders training course will be conducted in Dixon for Cubbers of Whiteside, Ogle and Lee counties. The first session will be held in the First Presbyterian church on Thursday evening, May 19th starting at seven o'clock.

The subject for this session is "The Place of Handicraft in Cubbing". Stanley Worrell, field scout executive for Whiteside county will represent the subject. Following the presentation there will be five different classes in various handicrafts all going on at the same time. These are to be taught by experts in the various crafts and each class will continue for twenty-five minutes and then be repeated three times during the evening. This is to make it possible for all to get into at least three of these craft classes.

Dixon is taking the lead in Cubbing in the whole of the Blackhawk Area Council and the leaders of the course are extending an invitation to all parents of Cubs to attend this training course. Parents of other boys who are of Cub age or who will be old enough to be Cubs within the next six or eight months are also urged to attend. In addition to parents, leaders of other boys groups, Sunday school teachers, school teachers, etc., are invited to attend. Every Den Chief in the three counties is expected to attend and also other Boy Scouts who would like to be Den Chiefs when an opportunity comes, are invited.

A special roundtable discussion for Den Mothers will be a feature of the program. This discussion is to be led by a veteran Scoutmaster and Cubber of Prophetstown, Rev. I. C. Campbell.

The course will be conducted by A. E. Hamilton, Council chairman of the Cubbing committee, A. A. Stocker, Scout executive, E. A. Rowley, field executive for Lee and Ogle districts and S. E. Worrell, field executive for Whiteside district.

NEW ILLINOIS PRISON DEEMED DIRE NECESSITY

Convict Population Increased 1,300 Last Year

Chicago, May 13—(AP)—A conference of persons interested in crime and punishment agreed yesterday Illinois needed a new prison to relieve overcrowded conditions that were described as "abominable."

About 100 penologists, sociologists, judges, legislators, police executives and civic leaders attended the conference called by Director A. L. Bowen of the state department of public welfare.

Bowen said he would draw up no formal report on the session but that he possibly would include a few notes from the discussions in making his recommendations to Governor Horner and the legislature for requirements of his department. Bowen said a new prison might be built if the state's financial condition would permit.

The director said the convict population had increased by 1,300 in the last year.

Joseph E. Ragen, warden of the state prisons at Joliet, said a "cottage type" prison, consisting of 15 one-story houses each with a capacity of 100 prisoners, could be built at a cost not exceeding that of one cell-house in an old-style type prison.

Bowen estimated a cottage-type prison of 1,500-inmate capacity on a 2,500-acre site would cost $2,000,000. This type of institution was advocated by Colonel Henry Barrett, Chamberlain of the Chicago crime commission, who told the meeting a new prison was needed now.

Judge Harry Fisher of Chicago said a new prison could be used to care for prisoners now suffering from "the abominable conditions" in the old prison at Joliet even in the unlikely event that prison population declined.

A military-vocational institution for young offenders was proposed by Chief Justice C. J. Harrington of the Chicago Criminal court.

Proposal To Speed Chicago's Subway System Approved

Chicago, May 13—(AP)—Mayor Edward J. Kelly's proposal to speed up plans for Chicago's $28,000,000 downtown subway system had the approval of the city council's transportation committee today.

Philip Harrington, city traction engineer, said he expected his staff to complete specifications within 60 days and be ready to advertise for bids about July 15.

The mayor had asked that the plans be rushed in order that the city could obtain funds under the public works administration program scheduled to become effective July 1. The mayor said he was seeking a grant of $12,600,000 or 45 per cent of the total expenditure.

Harrington said approximately 8,000 workers would find direct or indirect employment in constructing the three subways.

Purdue, Indiana Battle For Big Ten Leadership

Chicago, May 13—(AP)—The Hoosier rivals—Purdue and Indiana—squared off today at Bloomington, Ind., to decide the Big Ten conference baseball leadership. Each team has won four and lost one.

Bill Smith, a junior who has won three straight conference games, has been nominated as Indiana's pitching choice to oppose Arnold Bredewater, Purdue star hurler.

While the two leaders engage in the first of their important two-game series, the other Big Ten teams were scheduled as follows: Northwestern at Minnesota, Illinois at Chicago, Ohio State at Michigan and Iowa at Wisconsin.

Trade Review

New York, May 13—(AP)—Retail buying at leading centers of distribution this week averaged unchanged to three per cent under last week for the country as a whole, and ran five to 12 per cent under last year, Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

Wholesale buying was eight to 20 per cent under last year.

"Frost, cold, and rain curbed many shoppers' interest in spring offerings at retail stores," the credit agency said. "Coats, suits and millinery were chiefly neglected, although buying expanded in shoes, hosiery, handbags, and crocheted gloves, x x x" sought investigation of the air rearmament program to guarantee that nothing would be left undone to protect the nation.

The dual moves of the government to settle the Czechoslovak problem and strengthen Britain's defenses fit in with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's statement May 5.

DiMaggio Coldly Treated By Mates For Long Holdout

New York, May 13—(AP)—A little quiet investigation reveals that there is a certain amount of truth of the report that Joe DiMaggio is getting the chill from some of his Yankee teammates because of his prolonged holdout this spring, but it doesn't seem to be anything to worry about.

It was to be expected that some of Giuseppe's companions would resent his playing hooky from the training siege, and there is no doubt that they have let him know about it in a quiet way. Yet there seems to be no danger of any personal fireworks that could affect the team's pennant chances.

In fact, says an informant from the inner Yankee council, the feeling against the youthful slugger is nothing to what it was a fortnight ago, and he predicted that if Giuseppe keeps on powdering the ball everything would be hunky-dory again very shortly.

For generations there have been notions about the dangers of mixing this food and that. Many dietary facts and fads and food fanatics have been teaching peculiar ideas of diet at a time when the hustle, bustle and excitement of our modern existence make hygienic and scientific living necessary. As a result there are those who have definitely injured their digestive tracts and made invalids of themselves.

Digestion goes on much better when food is softened by water than it does when solid food is in a concentrated form. Many people do not take adequate amounts of fluid at their meals and as a result digestion is much more difficult.

GALAN, IMPROVED, MAY STEER CUBS PENNANT - WARD

Freshman Sensation Of 1935 Recovered From Old Ills

Chicago, May 13—(AP)—It may be Augie Galan, the National League freshman sensation of 1935, who again will steer the Chicago Cubs pennant-ward.

Manager Charles Grimm, groping for the device that would turn on the Cubs' potential batting power, has shaken up the lineup to move Galan, until this year a lead-off man and acknowledged as one of the best, to the No. 5 spot.

Yesterday Galan got three hits that rocketed him into the .300 class.

He drove in four runs that tied him with Mel Ott of the New York Giants for the lead in this department. Each has 23.

"I feel like hitting and I am hitting," exclaimed the "bust" of the 1936 season and the "ailing one" of 1937, when ankles and tonsils took turns aggravating him.

"But now I feel swell. I've put on between 10 and 15 pounds and weigh around 170. I'm hitting the ball harder and I feel like hitting. I guess it's my health."

Galan said the shift in the lineup marks the first time in his career he had batted fifth.

"I've been all around it, but never fifth. And it certainly feels good to drive the runs around."

After remedying the ankle situation early last season, Galan encountered tonsil trouble and had them removed. In spring training this year, he underwent an operation on his eye. And now he says he feels "swell."

Digestion goes on much better when food is softened by water than it does when solid food is in a concentrated form. Many people do not take adequate amounts of fluid at their meals and as a result digestion is much more difficult.

"THE LAST ADVERTISEMENT WAS PRINTED YESTERDAY"

*What Would the World
Be Like
If It
Were TRUE?*

THE last advertisement was printed yesterday. You have cut it out and put it away to show your grandchildren. With it, a way of living as you knew it, has passed forever.

Tonight you will want to see a movie. You pull up to one—saw it last week. At another—but no, you don't like So-an-So's acting. Let's go home. It's too much gas and time to waste on a show. Next month half the theaters will close. Poor attendance.

Tomorrow you will want some groceries. You will go to the nearest grocery store and buy some. Rib roast, perhaps, and lima beans. You won't hear until tomorrow night at the bridge table that the store just next door was having a "special" on rib roast and lima beans. Pretty soon your husband will wonder why the food bills are so high. The last advertisement was printed yesterday.

Next month is Aunt Jane's birthday. Well, if you think I'm going to spend half a day tramping from store to store looking for a gift that I used to find by turning a page—can't afford gifts anyway. We're spending money like water and living like poor folks . . .

Old car's wearing out. Can't afford a new one . . . Chevies and V-8's are both $1600 . . . demand's fallen off . . . they've had to up prices to meet plant expenses. Most of the others have closed down . . . don't know how the government will feed all the new unemployed.

Fellow in Milwaukee is inventing an air conditioner to sell for $50. No one will hear of it. You will never see it. What is air conditioning anyway? The last advertisement was printed yesterday.

Advertising has brought us many things. Finer cars, better homes, silly fads and wonderful inventions that have made life easier—and longer. Advertising is no unmixed blessing. But it has helped give America a standard of living unmatched in any other place and time. That standard of living should persist as long as people have wants to fill and money to spend and eyes to read with.

It will persist only so long as the presses keep rolling.

Busiest Summer Sports Program Here Underway

INTEREST IN BASEBALL AND BOXING RISES

Revival Of Soft Ball Noted; Tennis And Golf Strong

Perhaps the busiest summer sports season ever enjoyed by this city is dawning in Dixon, the development of several athletic teams indicated this week.

Notable on the list of sports which declined to new low ebbs last year and which have made the most spectacular revivals in active interest here are baseball, softball and boxing, which are rapidly drawing into their folds well over one hundred players and contestants. Other sports which are maintaining their popularity here are tennis and golf, while still other pastimes also are beginning to attract some attention that may develop later.

In the field of baseball Dixon again has an independent town team sponsored by Walter Knack which represents this city in the Illinois State league, the first time a local nine has participated in league baseball for almost five years. Significant factor in the rise of baseball is the interest displayed by younger players which augurs well for the future of the sport here. The American Legion, Post No. 12, is also considering reorganizing their Junior Legion baseball league which gave the American pastime its boost in the summer of 1937.

In recent weeks several high school youths organized two softball teams here and began playing each other. The enthusiasm of these boys took hold until now twelve softball teams from all sections of Dixon have formed like constellations around several managers. Some have already enlisted sponsors and the remainder expect to have them before next Monday when two leagues will be organized for a two-month summer schedule under floodlights at the airport.

Was Extinct In 1936
Almost completely extinct in Dixon since 1936, the revival of softball represents perhaps the most notable sports comeback of 1938. Over one hundred young men are eager to commence playing and in all probability the leagues will be ready for action three nights a week beginning about June 1.

Boxing has broken into the Dixon sport picture again this summer with the announcement that C. A. Petersen and Fred Hoffmann have promoted a fortnightly ring program to be held every other Thursday evening in the spacious Assembly Park auditorium which seats nearly 6000 people. Such attractions as the popular C. Y. O. boxers of Chicago, Jim O'Malley, popular Golden Gloves light-heavyweight, Elwood McReynolds, and Jim Balmer, South American champion, are being booked for Dixon and vicinity boxing enthusiasts. Since matches were held fortnightly at the airport hangar two years ago no boxing cards of importance have been held here.

The Malay Cup
Tennis and golf are maintaining their interest among a large number of Dixon sports followers. The Dixon Evening Telegraph is again sponsoring the development of tennis here by inaugurating a ranking system in which players may compete according to their ability to progress. On the Labor Day week-end a playoff tournament in which the top eight ranking players at that time are eligible, will be staged for The Malay Cup, a beautiful 14 1/2 inch bronze trophy which will go to the 1938 tennis champion of Dixon.

Golf is drawing its followers to the two beautiful and modern courses Plum Hollow and Dixon Country club for the annual tour-

Budge's Goal

New York, May 13—(AP)—A grand slam in tennis, something not even big Bill Tilden achieved in his prime, is the goal of Don Budge.

The California redhead, in town today, confessed he cherished an ambition to become the only player in history to hold at one time all four titles—American, British, Australian and French.

On Labor Day the annual Labor Day regatta will be held as usual at Lowell park. Speedboats from Rockford, Byron, Dixon, and other communities race in this regatta every year and thousands of persons taking advantage of the double holiday, line the banks to see these thrilling events.

Even marbles has won a niche in the Dixon sports panel. The Lion's club is sponsoring a city-wide marble tournament for Cub Scouts of Dixon in which Cubs of all Packs registered in Dixon are eligible to compete.

Demay collected games of 204-190-213 totaling 607, while Worley scattered the pins for big counts of 226-227-234 for a nice series of 687 pins, giving them a total of 1294 actual pins, seven short of the leaders, C. Bledsoe and G. Rein, of Sterling, who rolled a total of 1215 pins with 86 pins handicap to total 1301.

G. Hieb and J. Adams of Prophetstown, also on the same shift, rolled into fourth place with Hieb rolling 628 and J. Adams totaling 587 with 39 pins handicap.

GEHRIG LAUDS BOB FELLER'S MOUND WORK

Youthful Iowa Star Improved 100 Per Cent Over 1937

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rawhide Lou Gehrig's dimples broke through a rueful smile. He had just finished fanning for the second time against Bobby Feller's daisy-dos.

"Boy," he said, "anybody's going to be plenty lucky to get a hit off that kid this year."

It didn't matter that Rawhide stepped up to the plate a few minutes later and blasted one of Bobby's fast balls out of the lot for two runs; nor did it matter much that Bobby, in taking a 3-2 decision from the world champion Yankees yesterday, was lucky in being presented with a pair of unearned runs, which allowed the Cleveland Indians to finish on top.

What did matter was that the right-arm rifle from Iowa is so far improved over last year that he looks like two other fellows.

Given a little more time to cure a youngster's natural nervousness and to eliminate a little habit of getting feverish with runners on base, this 19-year-old Feller is going to make the folks forget a lot of "names" of years gone by.

Credit to Hensley

A lot of credit, as has been whispered before, goes to rollicking Rolfe Hensley, who, for all his playboyishness, is improving the kid more every time out. Rolfe knows American league batters, and when he's working, is up near the top in handling pitchers.

The most peculiar thing about Bobby's duel with Lefty Gomez yesterday, however, wasn't so much the fact that he allowed only five hits, fanned nine and walked only three. It was that Joe DiMaggio and belting Bill Dickey, who are great defensive ball players any time and greatest "in the clutch," came apart in just that spot. Each fumbled an easy on in the sixth inning to ruin Gomez's neat four-hit job of flogging and set up two of the Tribe's three tallies.

The defeat, coupled with the 7-6 beating Washington's upsetting Senators handed the Detroit Tigers, dropped the Yankees out of first place in the American league, after a one-day stay, and boosted the Nats back on top.

Like the American league, the National presented a curtailed program of two games, with the Chicago Cubs' "noble experiment" batting order trouncing the Brooklyn, 9-5, and Cincinnati's rude Reds blanketing Casey Stengel's stingless Bees, 4-0.

The Cubs found a hitting punch by boosting off "Poosh Em Opp" Tony Lazzeri into the cleanup spot and moving Augie Galan up to fifth place. Tony clouted four-for-four and drove in five runs; Augie took care of the rest of the situation with three hits and four tallies batted in. Meantime, Clay Bryant, rushed into the game in the first inning when Paul Eppery was batted out under a three-run barrage without retiring a man, hurried five-hit ball for nine full innings to take the decision.

Meyer Pleased At Performance Of Brand New Racer

Indianapolis, May 13—(AP)—Louis Meyer, the quiet Californian who three times has seen the checkered flag of victory wave in his face at the Indianapolis motor speedway is "tickled to death" with the way his brand new $15,000 racing creation performed in its first appearance on the local track yesterday.

"I've got to make some changes, of course," he said today as he started work again on the low-slung black-and-white speedster, construction of which has occupied his time continuously for months. Meyer who has won more money and traveled more miles at the Indianapolis course than any other driver, just loafed around yesterday for a few laps and then he brought the car back into his downtown garage.

A new air mail route was recently opened from Prince George to Germanen Landing in northern British Columbia, Canada.

1935 FIGURES, the latest available, show that sportsmen of the United States and Alaska paid $9,256,758.94 for hunting licenses, and nearly $500,000 for the Federal Migratory Bird-Hunting stamps. In Pennsylvania alone the receipts were more than $1,000,000.

THINGS CONGRESS MUST DO LISTED BY ROGER BABSON

Economist Backs Up the Recommendations of President

Babson Park, Mass., May 13.—Cutting out tax-exemption on new public bonds and softening the capital gains tax would be the biggest immediate help which Congress could give the country now. It would aid in bringing an end to the strike of capital which started last August. Taxing new government bonds and easing the levy on capital gains should force billions of dollars into new enterprises. These two steps are more important to recovery than the appropriation of the new $5,000,000,000 spending program.

Basically, taxes should be limited to raising money to pay public expenses. The soundest way to do this is to abandon all present federal levies except estate taxes and a broad income tax and to rely thereon. Present revenue measures are like a Chinese puzzle to figure out. They are unwise and restrictive. The framers of the new tax statutes had no idea what their ultimate effect would be. They did not realize, for instance, that a higher levy on personal holding companies, coupled with John L. Lewis' activities, would be largely responsible for throwing 4,000,000 people out of work between last August and this May.

What Higher Tax Did
Personal holding companies formerly held a tax advantage for wealthy individuals. Dividends and interest from investments could accumulate in these holding companies by paying a flat corporation income tax of around 15 per cent. But if the dividends were paid direct they had to be put through the owner's personal tax return at rates up to as high as 75 per cent. For several years treasury experts had tried to stop this "leak," but up until 1937 it was still cheaper to use the holding company device. Finally, last August, a bill was pushed through Congress which hiked the tax rate on these companies to 80 or 90 per cent. Immediately their owners began to sell their stock holdings and replace them with tax-free government bonds.

Under the three year rule of the Securities Exchange Commission the stock market had become very "thin." Prices often changed faster in a day than they fluctuated in a week ten years before. Hence, the market was unable to absorb these big blocks of securities which the holding companies wanted to get rid of. Prices naturally began to sink. Then high margins brought on selling from other sources. One forced sale would uncover another stop-loss order. Within a month what began as an orderly retreat had been turned into a rout. For the first time in my experience, a stock market crash brought on a business decline rather than a business decline bringing on a stock market crash!

Reforming by Taxes Bad Business
The drafters of last August's increase in personal holding company taxes little dreamed that it would touch off one of the sharpest recessions in history. The experience is a vivid illustration of the danger of tampering with our economic machinery. It shows the dynamite in using the tax power as a reform club. Business is like a watch. You cannot take off one wheel to repair it and expect the other wheels to keep good time. Our crazy-quilt tax system is the biggest problem we face today. Unemployment, crops, labor strife, spending, and all our other worries are "junior" to it.

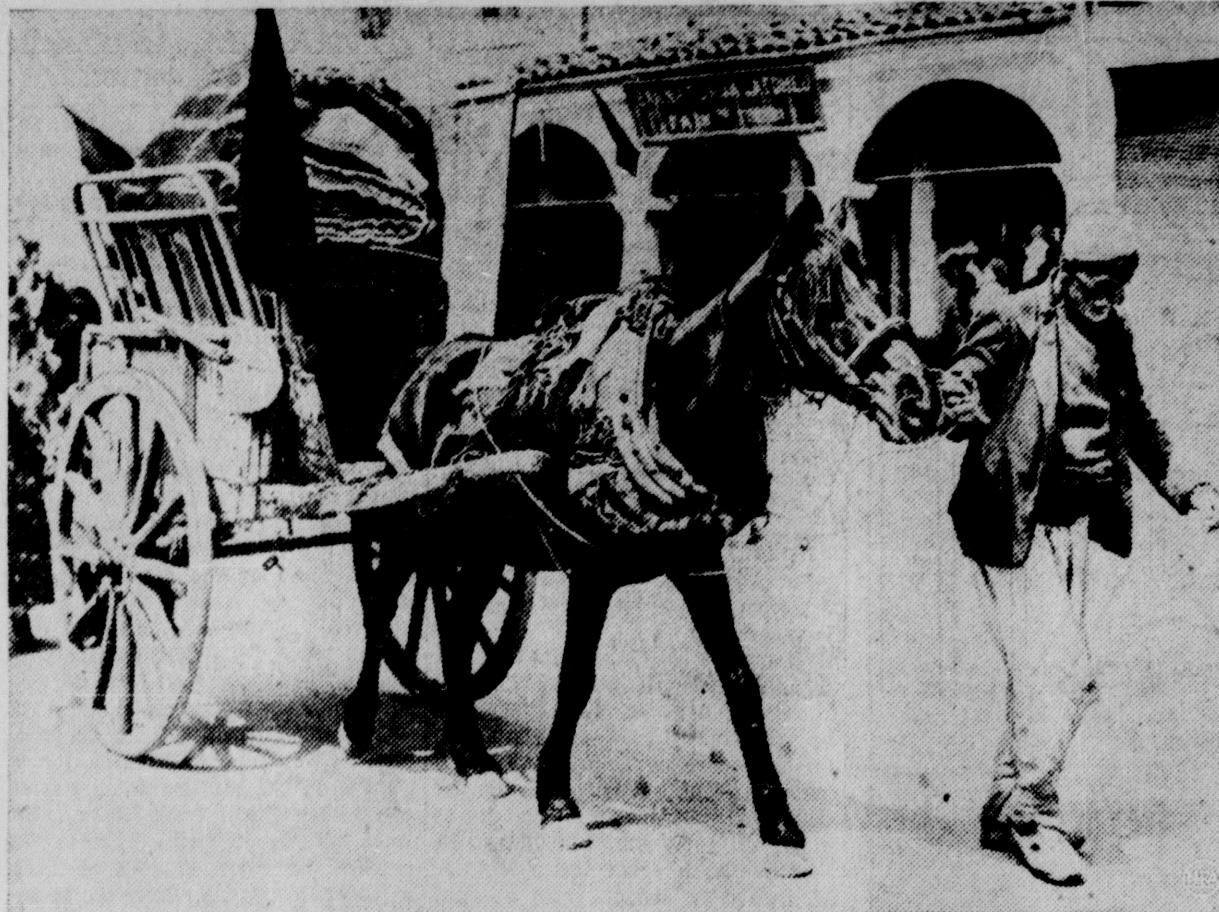

We are now wallowing in a stupid recession. Yet ours is the greatest and richest nation in the world. Gigantic mineral and farm wealth, unlimited factory and machine equipment, and unprecedented credit resources are ours. What has gone wrong? My answer is that those who control the wealth and industry of the nation have joined labor and consumers in a strike! These capitalists refuse to risk their money (and every business deal is a risk) unless they can make, and retain, a fair profit. They feel that the administration has "stacked the deck" so they have gone on a "sit-down" of their own!

End the Strike of Capital
Add this capital strike to renewed labor troubles, plus the consumer "sit-down," and we have business stagnation. The new Roosevelt spending program has been given a cold and clammy reception. In 1932 and '33 we needed pump-priming. We needed to inflate the business balloon and get it off the ground. But we do not need inflating or priming today. What we need now is a little assurance that the "head-I-win, tails-you-lose" game is over. Banks do not need bolstering; utilities do not need new money; labor does not need higher wages; but capital does need to be put to work!

A lower capital gains levy and the taxing of new public bonds could change the entire picture. They could drive hoarded and "dead" money into new enterprises and new industries. They could end the present business "standstill." Eliminating tax-exemption on new bonds, however, means that public borrowing would cost the taxpayer more money through higher interest rates. Hence, the passage of a modified tax on capital gains must be a running-mate of any measure eliminating tax-exempt bonds. In other words, force capital to work, on the one hand, by ending tax exemption; encourage it to work, on the other, by lowering the tax on capital gains.

These Are Emergency Measures
If we expect owners of capital to launch new industries we must assure them that if they are successful the government will not take 85 per cent of their profits. That is just plain horse-sense. The great hope of America is new industries. Our wonderful standard of living has come because of the development of new industries. These proposed changes in our restrictive and unwise tax system would be a powerful stimulus to new industries and to prosperity. They should be pushed through this session of Congress as EMERGENCY measures. Then the pump will need no priming!

An Albanian Bearing Gifts—From His Queen

Maybe it's just an old Albanian custom, but in any event the picture above proves that it pays to get married on the same day as the king. This aged Albanian is bearing gifts on his donkey cart for the 14 other couples who were married at Tirana on the wedding day of King Zog and Countess Geraldine Apponyi. The queen gave each of the brides a bed, a mattress, blankets and pillows, part of which are shown piled on the cart.

"And so again this year, on Sunday, May 22nd, we are looking forward to a visit from you and as many of your comrades as possible. We have arranged with our controller of weather to give us a fine, sunny afternoon and look to you to roll in anywhere between two o'clock and three o'clock, visit with your friends and make a tour of the ex-service section, so as to see just how your comrades are being taken care of. After these rounds are made, around about four o'clock, we will get together again in our Assembly Hall for an entertainment, featuring brief addresses, music and a motion picture show. Then, at six o'clock we want you to have supper with us.

"The grounds at Elgin will be beautiful at this time and I know you will enjoy your visit. If your wife will not let you come alone, bring her with you, but please leave the children at home, as we really have no facilities for taking care of them. We hope for a big turnout and look to you and your comrades to make the day a success. Reserve the date—May 22. Mark it up on your calendar. Be sure to note that we are on daylight saving time.

"Our service officer here, Jack Nelson, whom so many of you know, joins me in the invitation. We will send you another reminder within a few weeks. Meanwhile plan to come, and make this day as great a success as the former ones have been."

In the afternoon a presentation of a three act play, "The Triumphant Bachelor" will be staged by the Dramatic club.

C. A. Hills and his co-workers have developed a fine program. C. P. Unger is president and M. Hickman, secretary of the Rochelle Chamber of Commerce.

A young lady was out walking with a handsome farmer-lad, who was carrying a large basket on his back, holding a chicken in one hand, a cane in the other and leading a goat. They came to a dark ravine.

She—I'm afraid to walk here with you. You might try to kiss me!

He—How could I with all these things I am carrying?
She—Well, you might stick the cane in the ground, tie the goat to it and put the chicken under the basket.

German Lottery Tickets Barred From U. S. Mails

Washington, May 13.—(AP)—Postmaster General Farley has barred German lottery tickets from the U. S. mails.

Accepting the recommendation of Acting Solicitor Walter E. Kelly, Farley ordered postmasters to return to senders mail addressed to the Saxon state lottery (Saechsische Landeslotterie) or August Streit in Leipzig, Germany. Letters mailed to this country, Kelly said, urged Americans in the name of "the third Reich and its leader Adolf Hitler" to invest in the Saxon lottery. Streit said the German lottery would pay prize money to 45 per cent of its ticket holders.

Foreign Sales Of Farm Implements Better Than U. S.

Hoboken, N. J., May 13.—(AP)—Foreign sales of International Harvester Co. a leading farm implement maker, have held up "considerably better" than its business in the United States, Sydney G. McAllister, president, told stockholders in their annual meeting.

The foreign business, McAllister said, is running ahead of last year whereas domestic sales from November 1 to May 1 were about 13 per cent under the comparable 1936-37 period.

AIR MINISTRY ADVERTISING
London.—(AP)—The air ministry is adopting modern business methods in its recruiting campaign. It is advertising in the daily papers.

"Why not become a pilot?" begins one ad, effectively illustrated with a beautiful picture of three planes flying in formation. "There are 1,400 vacancies in the royal air force."

Man Held on Charge Of Killing Socialite

Prescott, Ariz., May 13.—(AP)—Ernesto Lira, Prescott sportsman, has been charged with murder in connection with the death of Marcus Jay Lawrence, 35, former Washington, D. C., socialite who was beaten fatally in a fight Tuesday night.

Lira was held without bail. An autopsy was ordered to determine the exact cause of Lawrence's death, the findings to be told at an inquest tomorrow. County Attorney Charles Ewing said Lawrence had a fight with Lira at a birthday party in the Prescott man's home. The official said Lira told him he found Lawrence and Odessa Webb unclothed, and that Lira and Mrs. Webb had been living together two years.

Railroads Intend Wage Reduction

Washington, May 12.—(AP)—The management of the principal railroads of the country has notified employees it intends to reduce basic wages 15 per cent on July 1.

"This action," the statement said, "is compelled by conditions now confronting the railroad industry. We wish the public and the railroad employees to know what those conditions are, because both the national welfare and the welfare of the railroad men are necessarily dependent upon the welfare of the basic transportation industry of the country."

Spokesmen for the railway brotherhoods have announced they will not accept any reduction, and that the wage controversy eventually will be placed before the national mediation board.
